ECE 2211 Microprocessors and Interfacing (3)
Overview of microcomputer architectures and operations, microprocessor evolution and internal architecture, assembly language programming, interrupt and interrupt applications, bus signals and interfacing, digital interfacing, analog interfacing, direct memory access, synchronous and asynchronous serial data communications. (Pre-requisite: ECE 2111)